

What is Azerbaijan's energy plan?

In order to fully assess the potential for electrification, energy efficiency and renewable energy penetration, Azerbaijan's energy planning requires a deeper focus on non-power sectors, such as heating and cooling, and transport.

Does the European Union have a long-term energy strategy for Azerbaijan?

The European Union has been supporting the Ministry of Energy of Azerbaijan in its work to build a Long-term Energy Strategy from 2021-2050. This Strategy has not yet been adopted, but remains under consideration. In May 2020, the Cabinet of Ministers approved the Action Plan on Attracting Additional Investments in the Renewable Energy Field.

What is Azerbaijan's potential for small hydropower?

Although hydropower is Azerbaijan's largest source of renewable energy today, its potential has not been fully exploited. According to the Ministry of Energy, the country's technical potential for small hydro is 520 MW, which could generate up to 3.2 TWh annually.

Is Azerbaijan ready for energy transformation?

Azerbaijan's adoption of the Strategic Road Map for the development of utilities, approved by the Presidential Decree of 6 December 2016, which lays out a long-term roadmap for the development of renewables in the country (see section 2.6), therefore represents a timely step towards energy transformation.

Does Azerbaijan still have energy subsidies?

Azerbaijan still has a sizable energy subsidy system in place. The cost of the energy subsidy was equivalent to almost 3.4% of GDP in 2016, with an average energy subsidy estimated at USD 130 per capita (see Table 4). The total value of subsidies almost doubled in the period between 2014 and 2016 from USD 751 million to USD 1 269 million.

Does Azerbaijan have an independent energy regulator?

Azerbaijan does not have an independent energy regulator. In 2017, the President of Azerbaijan signed a decree to establish an Energy Regulatory Agency under the Ministry of Energy. The Ministry of Economy regulates licensing procedures, while tariffs are set by the Tariff (Price) Council, chaired by the Minister of Economy.
