Did Bechtel build a smelter in Iceland?

Bechtel served as prime construction contractor for the smelter, located on the east coast of Iceland. It has been built on schedule and on budget, despite the challenges of construction in a harsh northern climate.

What is Bechtel's environmental policy?

It also won Iceland's highest environmental award, the Conch, for its policy of generating no waste to landfill, and not discharging wastewater into the neighboring fjord. Bechtel is a trusted engineering, construction and project management partner to industry and government.

What does Bechtel do?

They are what we believe, what customers believe. Bechtel has spent more than a century helping customers navigate shifts in energy consumption, technological change, financing challenges, and a sharpening focus on sustainable alternatives.
