How long does a BrightLife solar lantern last?

BrightLife offers a solar lantern that provides 72 hours of high-power light after a single day of charge. Another model even includes two USB ports for charging mobile phones. BrightLife customers tell us they use these in their businesses to extend the working day, thanks to the products' small, portable design.

Does BrightLife offer solar-powered appliances?

For increased productivity, BrightLife customers can add solar-powered appliances to the system they already own. Appliances will soon expand beyond TVs to include water pumps, maize grinders and ice-makers. Each of these appliances is designed to be income-generating, which will offset product costs within the first year.

What is BrightLife FINCA?

This led FINCA to establish BrightLife, a social enterprise in Uganda that provides last-mile distribution and end-user financing for products that create healthier and safer homes, increase productivity, reduce household expenses and provide additional income-generating opportunities.
