

Will Indonesia use battery storage in its power plants?

Indonesia's current pipeline of energy storage projects is mostly pumped hydro, totalling 4,063MW according to IHS Markit. Indonesia has launched a 5MW battery storage pilot project and says it could use the technology at all its state-owned power plants.

Why is battery energy storage system important in Indonesia?

However, given the challenge of Indonesia's geological landscape, with many off-grid and remote areas, there is a growing intermittency issue that hampers the development of solar and wind generation. Hence, the battery energy storage system (BESS) technologies have a critical role in the development of Indonesia's renewable energy.

Who are BW ESS & Penso power?

BW ESS and Penso Power are currently constructing the 100MW / 331MWh Bramley battery energy storage system project in Hampshire with energisation expected in Q4 2024 and recently signed a seven-year tolling agreement with Shell Energy Europe Limited.

Does Indonesia have a grid-connected energy storage system?

There, the global system integrator Fluence recently turned on a 20MW/20MWh grid-connected BESS as part of a 1,000MW portfolio in development and construction for power company SMC Global Power. Indonesia's current pipeline of energy storage projects is mostly pumped hydro, totalling 4,063MW according to IHS Markit.

Does Indonesia need solar & wind energy storage?

Although, there is no policy mandating the installation of energy storage in solar or wind projects in Indonesia, the abundance of solar and wind resources in Indonesia's archipelago and increased potential demand across industries indicate that BESS demand is poised to grow substantially in the near future.

Does PLN have a 5 MW energy storage system?

PLN and Indonesia Battery Corporation (IBC), the state-owned battery company, are working on another pilot project with a 5 MW energy storage system. PLN indicated that BESS technology will in the future be applied to all of its power plants.
