As part of the Energy Community, Moldova had a binding 10% contribution target for renewable sources (from either electricity, biofuels or hydrogen) in its transport sector by 2020. ... Despite the large potential for wind and solar power, its deployment has been very modest to date, with only 72.9 MW of installed capacity at the end of ...

So, Moldova cannot integrate into the energy system more wind energy than the minimum consumption at night and more solar energy than the maximum consumption during the day. If we produce more green energy than it can consume, it will flow into the Romanian or Ukrainian grid either for free, or Moldova will have to pay to balance the system.
