

The case studies shown on this page (below) include a selection of existing local authority and businesses projects, as well as those supported by the Net Zero Hub. They are set out by theme and provide examples of local, low carbon energy initiatives in practice. The projects are located across the Net Zero Hub regions in England.

The place I felt most at ease was a short walk down the road from Interhelpo, among the expansive Selmashevets factory complex -- a (still partially operational) industrial hub that had, in true Soviet fashion, its own ecosystem of social and leisure units. The crumbling crown jewel was a multi-purpose stadium into which anyone can now wander.
