

Ecuador is home to some of the most impressive architectural buildings that blend historical significance with modern design. From colonial-era churches to contemporary skyscrapers, the country's architectural landscape offers a diverse range of styles and structures that captivate both locals and visitors.

Our guide unveils the best hotels in Ecuador to make your stay memorable. Experience unrivalled comfort and luxury! ... In picturesque Cuenca, the Hotel Santa Lucia is a delightful boutique hotel set within a charming ...

BEFORE THEY STARTED building Casa Pitaya, a country house on the rainy western slopes of the Ecuadorean Andes, the architects Jos#233; Mar#237;a S#225;ez, Florencia Sobrero and Mart#237;n Real presented their ...

The Grid-scale/Utility Scale Battery Energy Storage Systems (BESS) industry in Ecuador is currently experiencing a surge in construction of new projects. This is due to the increasing demand for reliable and sustainable energy sources, as well as the government's push towards renewable energy.

What an amazing ornate and colourful church which is found along the street of seven crosses. The gold decoration throughout the church is breath-taking. The symmetry of the building is also amazing, even down to the 3D false stairs painted on the right of the main entrance to match the real stairs on the left-hand side of the main door.

Guayaquil, Ecuador is a city rich in architectural diversity, showcasing both historical gems and modern marvels. This vibrant port city offers an impressive array of buildings that reflect its cultural and economic growth over the years.

Rising above the historical skyline of Quito, Ecuador, stands IQON, a monumental architectural apartment building that has transformed the city's landscape. Completed in 2023 and designed by BIG-Bjarke Ingels Group, the structure stands as a testament to Quito's ongoing transformation and burgeoning status as a global hub for design and ...

Ecuador's architecture is a melting pot of cultures, traditions and rhythms. Home to incredible diversity -- ethnic, ecological and cultural -- its architecture reflects this hybridity. Traversing the nation, the most commonly encountered architectural style is the Spanish colonial. And the capital city, Quito, is a prime example.

The Iglesia de San Francisco, located in the historic center of Quito, is one of Ecuador's most significant religious sites. This Catholic basilica is known for its Renaissance ...

Web: <https://nowoczesna-promocja.edu.pl>

