

Energy company R  union

How can a new energy system be made in R  union?

This includes replacing sugar cane with different food crops; restricting urbanization; increasing the capacity for producing energy from waste; significantly scaling up photovoltaics that convert sunlight directly into energy; and convincing R  union islanders to make certain lifestyle changes.

Why is R  union so worried about energy imports?

Part of this concern stemmed from R  union's over-reliance on imports, including for energy, says Russeil, who is now at the French National Research Institute for Agriculture, Food and Environment in Paris.

What is Reunion Finance?

Reunion is a technology-enabled finance company called Reunion that guides tax credit buyers and sellers step by step through the transaction process. We have the highest quality projects on our platform and mitigate risk through our proprietary diligence, diversification, insurance, and administration process.

Could R  union be the first region to send food and energy?

"If there's climate-change problems, or war, or any political conflict in the world, R  union wouldn't be the first region where people would think to send food or energy," says Jean Philippe Praene, who studies renewable energy at the University of La R  union in Saint Denis. "So we have to be as self-sufficient as possible."

Is electricity self-sufficiency possible on R  union?

Although electricity self-sufficiency on R  union is theoretically possible, there are still a number of constraints imposed by factors such as nature, technology and economics. The island's remote location and geographical features are serious challenges for starters.

Why should one invest in Reunion?

One should invest in Reunion because it offers a simpler, faster, and more accessible way to finance clean energy projects compared to traditional tax equity. Reunion's experienced team helps you sell tax credits to a broad pool of corporate investors. The United States has set ambitious targets to mitigate climate change.
