Can solar panels be installed on a flat roof in Estonia?

In Estonia, most solar panel installations are installed on pitched roofs. Ideally, the panels should be installed at a 41 degree angle on the south side of the building. If they are installed to the north, the panels will not generate electricity. Alternatively, flat roofs may also be installed with solar panels.

Why should you install solar panels in Estonia?

The energy productivity of solar panels installed in Estonia is equivalent to the southern countries, as Estonia's cooler climate increases the efficiency of solar panels. We offer our customers turnkey construction of a solar park, starting from the design to the connection point, the construction of substations.

How much solar radiation does Estonia produce a year?

In Estonia, the amount of solar radiation is comparable to Central Europe; the average amount of radiation has an optimal slope and azimuth of 1100-1200 kWh/m², 85% of which falls between April and October. An optimally installed 1 kW PV plant produces 900 to 1000 kWh of energy per year.

Where is Solarstone based?

Solarstone, an Estonian producer of building-integrated photovoltaic (BIPV) solar roofs, has opened a 60 MW manufacturing facility in Viljandi, Estonia, to produce a broader range of design and performance specifications. Estonian BIPV specialist Solarstone said this week that it has built a new 60 MW factory in Viljandi, Estonia.

Tallinn, Harjumaa, Estonia (latitude: 59.433, longitude: 24.7323) offers varying potential for solar power generation throughout the year. The average energy production per day per kW of installed solar capacity in each season is as follows: 5.99 kWh/day in Summer, 1.54 kWh/day in Autumn, 0.50 kWh/day in Winter, and 3.97 kWh/day in Spring.
