What are the different types of residential solar panels?

There are three main types of residential solar panel installations: grid-tied, hybrid, and off-grid. Grid-tied systems are the most common and the cheapest because they use the least amount of equipment: solar panels, wiring, racking, grid-tied inverters, and a net meter.

What equipment do I need for a solar panel system?

While you may also need other components, like mounting brackets and additional wiring (see solar panel connector types guide), gaining an understanding of the four main pieces of equipment is a great place to start. Solar panels are the most iconic piece of solar equipment and they are the foundation of any solar panel system.

What is a solar panel system?

Solar panel systems are often referred to as PV, or photovoltaic, solar power systems. The home installation of a high-quality solar power system can reduce or eliminate dependence on the utility power grid that supplies electricity to light, heat, cool, and operate your home.

What is a roof-mounted solar panel system?

A roof-mounted solar panels system absorbs and converts the energy-packed photons of natural sunlight into a usable energy form. Solar panel systems are often referred to as PV, or photovoltaic, solar power systems.

What are the basic components of a solar PV system?

The basic components of solar PV systems can vary. The equipment needed for solar power depends on the system. What they all will have, however, are panels, mounting equipment, DC-to-AC inverter, wiring and fuse box connections, and a utility power meter. Below are our recommended solar components you'll need to ensure quality.

Do all solar systems have solar panels?

All solar systems, no matter the type, will have solar panels. Solar panels are made up of solar cells made of silicon that are wired together to make solar modules. Some of the best solar panel brands include Qcells, Silfab Solar, and JA Solar.
