UPS systems are divided into three types based on how power flows through the unit: standby, line-interactive and online double-conversion. Standby UPS Protects against power surges and provides battery backup in the event of a power outage.

Offline UPS, also called standby UPS or battery backup, is a cost-effective choice. Better offline UPS systems switch to battery fast enough to prevent power anomalies and ride out short outages. An offline UPS protects against most spikes, but doesn't maintain perfect power during minor sags and surges.
