What is National Energy Holding Company (NEC) in Kyrgyzstan?

In January 2016 the Kyrgyz Government established Open Joint Stock Company "National Energy Holding Company" to manage state-owned shares in the power sector companies. Executive power in Kyrgyzstan lies with the government, its subordinate ministries, state committees, administrative agencies and local administrations.

Will Kyrgyz build a new hydropower plant?

In seeking to build its power-generating capacity, Kyrgyz authorities also want to push forward with long-held plans for a series of new hydropower plants (HPP) along the Naryn River, with Bishkek signing a memorandum of understanding and an investment agreement with a consortium of Chinese companies on July 27.

Why is Kyrgyzstan preparing for a three-year energy emergency?

BISHKEK -- Long-reliant on hydropower to keep its power grid up and running, Kyrgyzstan is grappling with nationwide electricity shortages so severe that the government declared a three-year energy emergency that took effect on August 1.

How much electricity will Kyrgyzstan produce in 2023?

Consumption is expected to reach 17 billion kWh in 2023 and electricity production -- which is highly dependent on hydropower -- is only projected to hit 15 billion kWh due to lower-than-normal water flows into the Toktogul Reservoir, which is crucial for Kyrgyzstan's power generation needs.

Will Kyrgyzstan build a hydropower plant along the Naryn River?

Kyrgyzstan already has some HPPs along the Naryn River and some plans to build others are decades old. Those plans have new momentum as policymakers are increasingly looking to harness the hydropower potential of the river, which flows westward and eventually joins with the Syr Darya, one of Central Asia's two main water arteries.

When will a solar project start in Kyrgyz?

Construction for the solar project at Issyk-Kul is set to start in 2024 and expected to be done in 2025. The Kazarman project, meanwhile, has a much longer timeline, with Kyrgyz officials saying they plan to break ground in 2024 and that it will be put into operation on the Naryn River by 2030.
