

Can solar energy replace fossil fuels on Pitcairn Island?

Pitcairn's authorities have launched a renewable energy project designed to replace fossil fuels with solar energy. The goal is to replace 95% of the current diesel consumption on Pitcairn Island (75,000 liters per year) with a combination of energy saving and solar electricity through the installation of a hybrid photovoltaic solar energy system.

What is Nomad energy box?

The result of this work is the Nomad Energy Box, the mobile solar generator that allows the production of photovoltaic energy with plug & play technology. Without the need for building work, permit processing and adaptable to every environment and need.

Are the Pitcairn Islands Green?

Pitcairn Islands, a group of five islands with a total area of 47 km² and which constitute one of the most remote archipelagos in the world, turn to safer, greener energies that best meet the needs of the population. Discovery of Pitcairn Island . Captain Philip Carteret first spotted Pitcairn Island in 1767 but couldn't land due to rough seas. He miscalculated its location, marking it miles away from its true position. Years later, Captain Cook showed some interest, but it wasn't until the Bounty mutineers arrived in 1790 that the island gained attention.

Renewable Power for Remote Communities. The preceding maps of Solar radiation (Solargis) and Wind energy (Global Wind Atlas) show that Oceania is able to be roughly split into regions close to the Equator and those farther away with different amounts of Solar radiation and ranges of Mean Wind Speeds. Solar Power appears to be the most significant source of Renewable ...
