Angola is gearing up to redefine its energy landscape with ambitious plans to elevate its Liquefied Natural Gas (ALNG) plant to full operational capacity for the first time since its commissioning over a decade ago.

This collaboration was formalised during the Angola Oil & Gas conference in October 2024 and represents a major step toward establishing Angola as a key player in the green hydrogen economy. The project, situated in Barra do Dande, aims to utilize Angola's abundant hydroelectric resources to produce up to 600 MW of green hydrogen, which will ...

6 ???· Angola is gearing up for a transformative year in 2025, marked by key developments in oil, natural gas, and renewable energy. With a strong focus on maintaining crude production above one million barrels per day (bpd) and diversifying its energy mix, the country is advancing projects in green hydrogen, solar energy, and natural gas.

With 27 trillion cubic feet of natural gas reserves, Angola holds immense potential for job creation, energy poverty alleviation, and a pathway to energy transition. A competent administration is essential to guide this economic development effectively.
