Which companies are building a battery storage facility in Poland?

Polish utility PGE Group has launched a tender for the design and construction of a battery storage facility with a minimum capacity of at least 900 MWh. Meanwhile, Ukraine's DTEK has completed the acquisition of a 532 MWh battery storage project in southern Poland. Image: Sandia National Laboratories, Wikimedia Commons From ESS News

Will PGE build a battery energy storage system in Poland?

Polish state-owned power company PGE Group (WSE:PGE) is planning to build a battery energy storage system (BESS) of at least 200 MW/820 MWh which will be linked to an existing pumped-storage power plant in the north of Poland. The project has obtained the first license promise in Poland for electricity storage, PGE said in a press release.

Will Poland have a power storage system?

The project has obtained the first license promise in Poland for electricity storage, PGE said in a press release. The storage system will be set up at the 716-MW Zarnowiec pumped-storage power plant with 3,600 MWh of storage capacity. The hybrid system will be capable of supplying power to about 200,000 households for at least five hours.

Will Poland lead Eastern Europe's battery storage market?

Poland is set to lead Eastern Europe's battery storage market, with 9 GW offered grid connections and 16 GW in the capacity auctions.

How will the Zarnowiec storage system help PGE achieve its goal?

The Zarnowiec storage system will help PGE Group reach its goal of having 800 MW of installed storage capacity in Poland by 2030. Choose your newsletter by Renewables Now. Join for free!

When will the capacity market auction in Poland start?

Hype for the upcoming capacity market auction in Poland in December is building with over 16 GWs of storage assets pre-registering for the auction. Total volume and price range will be announced this coming Thursday (14 December), with more detailed results most likely in Early January.
