Will Serbia develop a solar power plant?

The Serbian government is seeking a strategic partner to develop at least five PV plants with a cumulative capacity of 1 GW/1.2 GWh and at least 200 MW/400 MWh of battery energy storage. State power company Elektroprivreda Srbije (EPS) will own and operate the assets.

Is solar a good option for Serbia?

A statement published on the Serbian government's website says solar is the most optimal solution to quickly reach large capacities from green sources, without burdening and endangering the stability of the transmission network. Serbia currently gets more than 60% of its electricity from fossil fuels.

How many solar panels does Serbia have?

According to the Association of Renewable Energy Sources of Serbia, the country has installed around 50 MW of solar. However, that figure is not exact, as there is no official registry at this stage. In April, Serbia switched on its largest solar plant, the 9.9 MW DeLasol PV project in the Lapovo, central Serbia.

How much solar will Serbia have by 2024?

Serbia currently aims to deploy 8.3 GW of PV by 2024, according to a draft plan released by the government last year. According to the draft, utility-scale PV projects could be built on 200,000 hectares of neglected, low-value agricultural land that could host 2 GW of solar.
