Was DC Solar a scam?

It was the largest criminal fraud scheme in the history of the district, which includes Sacramento and Fresno. According to prosecutors, from 2011 to 2018, DC Solar manufactured mobile solar generator units and, because they used solar energy, buyers could obtain federal tax credits. The reality was much different, authorities say.

Is DC Solar a Ponzi scheme?

The plan had many of the hallmarks of a classic Ponzi scheme, but with a twist. DC Solar wouldn't just defraud new buyers to pay earlier ones. By holding itself out as a legitimate solar company, it would give all of them--new and old--cover to drain millions of dollars of tax credits from the U.S. Treasury.

How much money did the solar energy scheme make?

The court stated that "[b]ecause of the manner in which Defendants promoted the scheme, the court concludes that $50,025,480 in gross receipts from the solar energy scheme came from money that rightfully belonged to the U.S. Treasury."

Did DC Solar use sublease agreements to defraud investors?

They used the sublease agreements to defraud investors. Between March 2011 and Dec. 18, 2018, investors collectively invested approximately $759,400,000 and several financial institutions and other investors transferred collectively $152,700,000 to DC Solar as part of related transactions for the purchase and lease of generators.

Did DC Solar rob the American people?

Because those corporations had used the investment tax credit to deduct roughly that entire sum from their taxes, DC Solar had effectively robbed the American people. The corporations are expected to return their ill-gotten tax breaks to the U.S. Treasury.

Does DC Solar have a car charger contract?

DC Solar had an offer for 30 leases from a sports-marketing company. It had a signed contract to provide 10,000 car chargers to the U.S. Department of Transportation for parking lots and schools across the country. (A DOT spokesperson told me there was never any such contract.)
