Where should a bed face if the bedroom is not east?

Hi Saj, If his bedroom is not at the East 4 sections, and if you can't place the bed at the East sections in the bedroom, then just place it so the bed faces one of the 4 auspicious East directions. Where the bed faces is where your head is pointed towards when you sleep on the bed. -Victor

Should a bed face a window?

If your bed faces a door, keep it closed while you sleep. If your bed is in a good position, having the bed face a window is acceptable, provided other layout factors of the home are considered. For bedroom windows, heavy curtains or blinds are recommended to be drawn at night, to contain energy while sleeping.'

Is bed facing NE a bad direction?

I am Kua #7 and most research says bed facing NE is bad, then others say for my Kua number that NE is a lucky direction. So, which is it? Is bed positioned on NE wall okay? Hi Wendie, If you're using your Kua number, the first to consider is to have your bed in the positive sectors, such as NE, in the bedroom.

Can a bed be under a window?

Hi DSC, Having bed under window is fine, as long as the window is NOT next to your head. Even so, a solid headboard (or solid blinds) can be a cure. It is way better than having it across from the bathroom door. -Victor I just rented a house with the main door facing North.

Is it bad if the bed is facing a window?

Hi Pam, The first choice is to avoid the bed before you think about the better direction. So try to avoid bed under window (unless you have a cure). Having the bedroom door open to the bed is not bad by default because it depends on its distance. -Victor Hi there Victor! I have a question about my bed facing direction. I am kua 8 male, west group.
